

Psalms 1

The person who reads God's word is like a tree that bears fruit because it is planted next to a stream.

Those who reject God are like chaff that blows away
in the wind.